New Vienna Womans Club

Mrs. J. Gurney Terrell spoke instead of Mrs. Winnie Hadley, scheduled leader. She outlined architectural forms and transitions of style and made a background for her talk with a brief history.

She said that America was founded on worship and that the first church was in Jamestown, Va. The leader mentioned St. Luke's Episcopal Church built in 1632, St. Paul's Chapel, the Cathedral of St. John the Divine and the Little Church Around the Corner, famous for weddings and funerals, in New York City.

"The Little Brown Church in the Vale" is in Iowa, she said and inspired the composer, Pitts, to write the song of that name. Mrs. Homer Williams sang the hymn.

Spanish missions in California were described and the interesting comment made that Christopher Wren, the English architect, designed the pointed steeples in use in so many churches. Mrs. Terrell said that most of America's large churches are of Gothic architecture. The chimes of Catholic churches are beginning now to be used in Protestant churches, she concluded.
